#STAYS SAFE IN CARE

Care homes and senior living complexes have had to undergo significant protocol and technology changes to ensure residents, family and staff receive clear messages and guidance during the COVID-19 pandemic. Digital media technologies can help ease these difficulties and ensure a more enjoyable experience for patients and visitors.

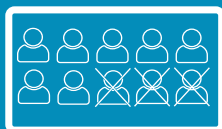

DIGITAL SIGNAGE

Digital signage is a great way of maintaining an engaging living environment. Delivering eye catching, dynamic content for residents allows everyone to stay up-to-date with health and safety measures and upcoming activities.

TV DELIVERY

As many senior living communities and care homes remain in lockdown, having a robust TV delivery platform is essential in providing entertainment for residents as well as keeping them up-to-date and connected to the outside world.

OCCUPANCY MANAGEMENT

Monitor occupancy levels in communal areas throughout communities, avoid congestion and maintain social distancing. With real-time digital displays indicating which rooms are busy, easily direct people to safer areas across the site.

IN ROOM ENTERTAINMENT

Interactive TV solutions deliver Video on Demand and live TV content, keeping residents engaged and entertained. Furthermore, TV displays integrate with nurse call systems to allow residents to request assistance from the safety of their rooms.
